A brief study of a report from the California Taxpayers' Association released this week indicates that the bonded indebtedness of the municipalities in the county is only $57,000 while the special assessment districts—exclusive of schools—totals $71,778. This would not indicate that municipalities are likely to be overburdened with debt and at the same time shows that under a group of boards of various and conflicting duties, the costs are likely to exceed those of a properly executed municipal government. Think it over.

With virtual assurance that the necessary fund will be secured for raising the 150,000 rainbow trout now in the tanks of the San Francisco Flycasting Club, our activities turn to another equally important program. The Truckee Outing Club held its first meeting this week and came to a very definite and concrete conclusion—money is necessary to carry on the required work in preparing the local winter sports grounds for the coming season. Work has already been started on the grounds where increased facilities and more adequate grounds will be provided. The small balance left from last year's operations is already wiped out and while those in charge of the work are willing to give freely of their time and efforts, cash must be secured for the essential facilities and specialized work. Truckee must continue winter sports. Last year's efforts proved their value and while it was a difficult year after a season of non-activity, it was definitely proved that the winter sports do result in increased business throughout the district and are vital to the future of the town.

We believe that the two Truckee schools have a better outlook this year than they have in the past. Two men, one on each faculty, are being added to replace women whose contracts were not renewed. We are not implying that women are not just as good teachers as men, but there is no question that men who understand the problems of boys will be a great asset to the teaching staffs. We anticipate better results from the local schools through this wise action by the two boards.

Youth Seriously Injured As Car Goes In River

Spectacular Accident On Tahoe Highway Sunday

SECOND BOY ESCAPES

Car Demolished in Plunge Down Sixty Foot Bank

Tahoe City, Aug. 28—One of the most spectacular auto accidents in this vicinity since the summer season got under way occurred Sunday morning on the Truckee-Tahoe highway about four miles west of Tahoe City. A car driven by Clifford Weaver, 20, of Sacramento leaped a fifty foot bank and plunged into the Truckee River at a point near the Deer Creek bridge. A train crew passing the spot at 7:30 Sunday morning found Weaver lying beside the tracks and reported the accident to officers in Tahoe City.

Patrolman Arden Matthewson and Inspector Harvey Blackwell—with A. M. Henry, local garage man—hurried to the scene and rushed Weaver to Dr. Edward Purcell, Tahoe physician. Finding his injuries so serious that no more than first aid could be administered here, the doctor sent the injured youth to an Auburn hospital. His legs and hips were badly crushed, there were severe lacerations about the head and face and it was feared there might also be internal injuries.

In his dazed condition, Weaver told investigators that two other men had been in the car with him and several volunteers in bathing suits searched the river for hours thinking to discover other victims, but nothing more was discovered.

Later a man was located at Tallac who said he was riding with Weaver but had left the car before the accident. He was John A. Ricketts, 21, of Sacramento, who had started from that city with Weaver on Saturday on a fishing trip in the Tahoe region. Ricketts said the driver had been drinking and that he had left him after a quarrel.

The Big Hook from the Truckee AAA Garage retrieved the car from the canyon.

Scruggs, William Ward, Harold Tamka, Bert Acres, Frank Campbell, and Jim Underhill. The latter is a guard on Aiken's university football squad this season. Other guests included W. A. Griffin of Sacramento, Reg Hornberger of Oakland and R. W. Siebold of Truckee.

W. M. Englehart, Jr., was program chairman and President Clarence J. Bowers was in charge of the busy meeting.

SMALL CITIES GAIN FROM DISTRIBUTION OF VEHICLE FEES

James M. Carter, director of the department of motor vehicles, yesterday announced the apportionment of $1,901.59 to Nevada county as its share of motor vehicle license fees for the quarter ending June 30 last. The apportionment is based on a population of 19,283 as given by the last federal census.

Carter also announced Placer county will receive the sum of $2,771.86 as its share for the same quarter. Apportionments for cities similar in size to Truckee were as follows:

Loyalton	$125.39
Rocklin	107.77
Colfax	107.63
Williams	110.35

The local apportionments are a part of a total of $1,702,926.24 available to all cities and counties and the general fund after the deduction of $89,706.60 for administration and $2,830.92 for contributions to the state retirement fund were made. Under the law, the general fund receives 20 per cent, the counties 40 per cent and the cities 40 per cent.

The apportionment was made on a population of 5,024,918 for the cities and 6,907,387 for the counties.

Motor vehicle license fees are now collected by the state in lieu of personal property taxes formerly assessed on motor vehicles by cities and counties.

Per Capita Debt In County Set At $29 By Group

Included in this was $446,000 for the school districts, $71,778 for special and assessment districts, and $57,000 for municipal indebtedness. Warden Warns Tahoeites About Allowing Dogs To Kill and Maim Deer

Residents of Lake Tahoe who are permitting their dogs to run deer in the district are being warned by Game Warden William LaMar that they are violating a state game law and that if the practice continues, the dogs will be taken up and the owners penalized. One big buck was found in a pool a few days ago by the warden, killed by a couple of dogs. Other instances were cited as evidence that dogs are citing and maiming deer.

TOKIO HOLDS THE TRIGGER

Like a jittery gunman nervously fingering the trigger of his weapon, Japan has been teetering on the verge of explosive action. Those at whom the gun has been pointed—Australia, the Netherlands East Indies and the United States—have been seeking to persuade its owner by sweet reasonableness and stern threat that grim consequences will follow if the trigger is pulled. The difficulties of such persuasion are enormous when the party you are addressing is not merely anxious to obtain swag, but has serious delusions of grandeur. If Nippon merely wanted raw materials to develop and enrich a peaceful industrial economy, no obstacles would stand in the way of securing them. But her military zealots seek not only raw materials but domination and conquest as well. Will reasonableness and earnest threats check fanatical dreams of a divine, imperial destiny? Or will the jiggling gun momentarily go off, transforming the Pacific into an arena of war? Perhaps even the militarists of Tokio don't know.

MIDDLE EAST BATTLE LINES

With plans under way for ferrying American war planes across the South Atlantic and on to the Middle East, another gateway in opened thru which American military strength can strike against the advance of Nazi armies—should they be victorious in southern Russia. In the fast-spreading theater of conflict of World War II, the Middle East and Iran have been brought near the dangerous firing line. Iran supplies most of the oil for Britain's land, sea and air forces in the Middle East. Control of Iran would mean control of the sea route through the Persian Gulf, today the safest of all Britain's supply lines. Iran lies between the Russian Army of the Caucasus and the British Middle East Army in Iraq. For all these reasons, control of Iran is of major strategic importance to Britain, Russia and Germany. The ferrying of American war planes to the Middle East shows America's determination to ensure its control by anti-Axis powers.

MIS-SPENT MILLIONS

Let all take heart! Even in this year of colossal expenditures, Congress is managing to save money. Dividends for the hard-pressed taxpayer have come from the work of House and Senate committees investigating defense contracts. These committees have finished unmasking many costly mistakes which the War Department promises to avoid in the future. Millions were needlessly wasted through the "cost plus fixed fee" contracts and failure to use land-grant freight rates. Nepotism, too, played its part. We trust War Department officials endorse the words of an investigating committee report: "The lessons taught at such expense have been well learned."

THEY'RE STILL COMING

Though the state has been setting up payroll and employment records only to knock them down again, California has still another figure to boast of this week—an increase in population, according to official estimates, amounting to more than half a million since the 1940 census. Come defense boom or depression lull, the cry is still, "California, here we come!"

FAIR DAYS AHEAD

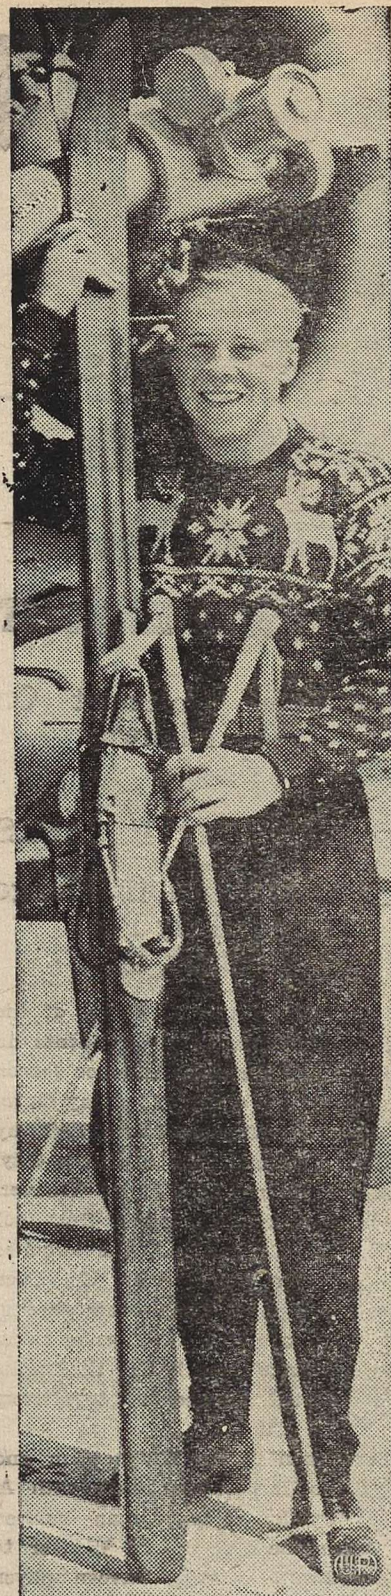

Since the first State Fair was held in 1854, four generations of California settlers and farmers have carved out an agricultural empire second to none. Its fame has become world wide. Today it is cast in the role of a leading provider in making America the breadbasket of anti-Axis nations.

The 87th annual State Fair—the biggest in the nation—being held in Sacramento from August 29 to September 7 inclusive, offers everyone a chance to see for himself just why California is surpassingly well fitted for that huge job. In fact, only a great exposition of this kind can give persons any notion of the enormous diversity and productivity of California agriculture. We can glimpse its importance in the fact that the average annual income of California agriculture during the past four years has been $622,389,000, a higher average than that of any other state. We can measure its productivity in the fact that this state's orchards yield more than three-fourths of the nation's apricots, avocados, grapes, prunes and plums—to mention a few. Of certain crops, including lemons, figs, walnuts and dates, California grows virtually the country's total. We can gauge the rich diversity of its agriculture by the fact that in a farm state like Iowa, five products account for 87 per cent of the total farm income. In California, it takes 26 products to account for 85 per cent of the total farm income.

These are the cold facts. The State Fair presents the living, colorful picture behind the statistics, the picture of the rearing of Plenty into whose building went the sweat and imagination that turned deserts into fertile gardens, that supported mass distribution, organized marketing cooperatives, and pioneered with farmer-consumer campaigns to carry California's produce to dinner tables in every community of the land.

It's the big story of a big state that the State Fair reveals. As the showcase of California, the exposition at Sacramento is something to see!

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

A couple of our local fishing "experts" were salmon pink this week when Bert Weeden was showing a string of fish around town. Frank Kinne, the Eagles' prey and one of the Truckee Clippers, came out flat-facedly and stated they were silver side trout. Verne Shattuck, Truckee's cinemagnet, was begging Bert to tell him the name of the lake they were taken from and Bert told him "California Lake". The key to the mystery of "California Lake" is that it is the Pacific Ocean and the "silver side trout" were salmon from aforementioned Pacific Ocean.

As they say on the candy box, today is somebody's birthday. To most men three women are the major influence in his life. First is his mother, then his sweetheart or wife and last—but far from most insignificant—is his sister. Well, today my sister is 19, so for 19 years I have been the luckiest brother alive. Dot, although at times trying, is a constant source of encouragement and an unrelenting critic and faithful friend in extremity. From me to you, then, Dot, it's happy birthday!

Then, too, I would like to extend my veddy, veddy bestus to my friends and yours, Elden "Pinky" Tonini and Edith Pfandler on their respective natal days.

Definition not from Webster: Life is a split infinity.

My belated but hearty best wishes gush forth to the Auburn Placer Herald and its publisher, W. A. Shepard, for seeing through 89 years of continuous publication. The anniversary was two weeks ago and I'm just naturally put-offish. The Herald, an independently Democratic organ, is the oldest paper of continuous publication in California and when a newspaper can hang on that long, you know that it has shown service and satisfaction to its readers, its advertisers, its community and its nation. It fourth—and current—owner, Mr. Shepard, might well be the symbol of that service in that he has been on the job for 40 years and is in addition probably the only post master in the nation who has held office under the last three Democratic presidents—Cleveland, Wilson and Roosevelt—and if you look in your history books, you'll find that it's a long time between Democrats. Anyway, congrats to the Herald and to you, "Shep". May the 189th year dawn on a thriving Placer Herald!

Burton Swartz, Jr., of Clarksburg, who with his parents has been a summer resident here for many years, showed the true American spirit during the past week when he enlisted for four years in the American Field Artillery and sailed for duty in Hawaii. Young Swartz was a recent graduate of the University of California, and left a good position with the California Packing Company to enlist as a private.

Miss Margaret Luhrs of Fallon, Nev., and Tahoe City, before leaving here recently to begin her second term in the University of Nevada, made one more record hike into the Tahoe back country. On this occasion, Miss Luhrs walked about 18 miles in one day, climbing Ward Peak on the out-going trip and returning by way of Five Lakes and Deer Park. The young hiker predicts a good deer season this fall, as she encountered five deer on this trip and says the animals appear in fine condition.

THIS Indian serving woman is employed in one of the leading hotels in Quito, skytop capital city of Ecuador, which for a time was co-capital with Cuzco of the vast and fabulously wealthy Inca Empire. She has the quiet dignity which characterized her ancestors who belonged to that amazing Empire which flourished for four centuries before the white man's arrival in South America.

There was no poverty among the Indians in those days. They lived in a well advanced state of civilization and were engaged in honorable, dignified occupations. They raised crops; mined gold and silver and from it fashioned figures, vases and ornaments of exceptional workmanship; they made pottery of amazing form and design; they raised flocks, spun the wool and made their own clothes; and they were remarkable engineers, stone masons and builders. Examples of their skill are seen on every hand by travelers visiting the Land of the Incas on the 38-Day Peru Cruises from New York.

The Inca regime was a despotism yet paternal in the extreme. The cultivated land was worked on the collective principle with one-third for the state, one-third for the Priesthood of the Sun; and one-third for the people. There was no coinage—the gold and silver belonged to the state. All who were able were engaged in some type of work. In return the state provided, more or less generously, for the material comforts of the people, and also cared for the very young, the sick and the infirm. The position of the Indians today is a far cry from what it was before their Empire fell. Yet they have maintained, through all their trials and tribulations, a calm reserve which we well might emulate.

Tahoe Realty to Open New Tract on Sept. 15 On Duane Bliss Property

Tahoe City, Aug. 28.—According to information received from H. F. Droste of the Tahoe Realty Company, a new subdivision to be known as the "Tahoe City Terrace" will be ready for sale here about September 15. Work crews are now busy staking out the separate lots and making streets through the tract.

The property, which includes land formerly owned by the late Duane L. Bliss, adjoins Tahoe City's main residence section known as the Bettincourt Tract. A good share of the property to be sold lies along Bliss Creek and is thickly forested with pine and fir.

Droste says that each lot in the tract will contain at least 5000 square feet of area, and that Tahoe residents and owners of adjoining properties will be allowed first choice as to purchase and reservations will be taken from these between August 30 and September 15.

daughter, Roberta Jean. The affair featured a shower for the baby, followed by an informal dinner party. Guests present were the Misses Patricia Heary, Gerry Kendrick, Beverly Porter and others.

Mrs. John B. Metcalf entertained with a cocktail party on Sunday afternoon in her lakeside home near the Tahoe Tavern. Mrs. Valerie Woodhouse and Mrs. M. C. Dillon were among the several guests present.

The Walker family of Woodland, former Tahoe residents, spent last Sunday fishing at Tahoe and along the Truckee River. The picnic group included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walker, daughters Patsy and Maizie, and Gene and Bud Walker.

WOMEN'S CLUB AT LAKE CITY MAY PROVIDE LUNCHEES

The regular business meeting of the Women's Club of Tahoe was held on Thursday, August 21. It was decided at that time to consider the matter of furnishing hot lunches to the school children. Mrs. Lyle Smith was made chairman of the committee for this purpose. Mrs. Smith's group will investigate the methods used by the Mother's Club of Kings Beach and the P. T. A. in Truckee.

Following the meeting, a delightful dessert was served and bridge was the main diversion of the afternoon. The hall was tastefully decorated with flowers arranged by the hostess for the day, Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Jr. She was assisted by Mrs. Oscar Quam and Mrs. Martin Spitzner. Awards were earned by Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Sr., Mrs. Theodore Schleuter and Mrs. Tejas Edwards.

Mrs. Joe Henry and Mrs. Norman Mayfield also assisted on the committee.

On Thursday, September 4, the next business meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the Tahoe Community Center building. Every member is urged to make a special effort to attend as a vote will be taken on sponsoring the hot lunch program for the school children.

Irvin S. Cobb, of literary and motion picture fame, was a guest at Tahoe Tavern over the past weekend. Mrs. Cobb also accompanied her husband here on his three days vacation.

Mrs. Richard Ham, who has spent the past two months in her summer cottage near here, left this week her two sons for their Piedmont home.

Mrs. Clarence Bruener closed her summer place at Homewood this week and returned to her home in Piedmont.

CITIZEN COOPERATION IN LAKE AREA WINS PRAISE OF RANGERS

"We are really receiving fine cooperation from the public users of the Tahoe National Forest these days when one traveler through the forest puts out a fire that another tourist starts," states District Ranger H. I. Snider of Truckee.

This happened twice in the past week, in fact within two days. Last Thursday, E. J. Goyette, San Leandro, and H. I. Christie, San Francisco, found a fire smoldering in an old rotten log skidway while hiking one mile north of Tahoe Vista and smothered it with dirt they scooped up with their hands. They then returned to Sandy Beach Camp and reported it to the forest service at Truckee. This fire, which had apparently been started by a careless horseback rider smoking in a closed area, was put out without causing any damage, although it had the possibility of "going places," states Snider.

The following day, Charles Johnston, caretaker at Frog Lake, reported finding a campfire that had spread to a rotten log near Castle Peak, 12 miles northwest of Truckee. He found an old tin can and proceeded to check the fire by carrying water from a nearby pond. An inspection of the area by Fire Guard Curran revealed that Johnston had done a thorough job.

"We are now in the driest part of our fire season," states Snider, "and with care exercised by tourists and hikers coupled with cooperation as given by the above described forest users, it will be a great help in preserving 99.9 per cent of our recreation area in this locality again this year as we have the past several years."

Tahoe Army Man Visits Friends on Furlough From Fort Ord in Week

Jack English, formerly in partnership with his brother, Bud English of Kings Beach, returned to Lake Tahoe on a week's furlough from Fort Ord where he is stationed with the 76th Infantry, Battery B. English is very enthusiastic over the army activities and plans to remain in the army.

Many friends wished English welcome. A delightful dinner party in his honor was given by Celeste Platt of Kings Beach. The occasion also celebrated the birthday of the honored guest's brother, Bert English.

Dancing was enjoyed during the evening.

Board Knocks 12 Cents Per Hundred from Lake Utility Dist. Tax Rate

Tahoe City, Aug. 28.—A directors' meeting of the Tahoe City Public Utilities District was held here on Saturday evening, August 25. The main business of the evening was the passing of a resolution setting the district tax rate at 50 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. This rate on the assessed valuation of $158,445 will be the means of raising $800 needed to meet the bond redemptions and interest payments on next July 1.

The 50 cents tax rate is a reduction of 12 cents on the $100 over last year's rate.

Press Lauded for Help In Defense Savings Bond Campaign by Official

In a letter to the publisher of the Sierra Sun, Milburn McCarty, Jr., assistant chief of the press staff of the Defense Savings Staff, Treasury Department, expressed his department's appreciation for the cooperation of this paper in the Defense Savings Program. McCarty went on to explain the prime importance of this drive and stated:

"In our efforts to stimulate the buying of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps, we are gratified by the expressions of helpfulness reaching us from publications everywhere. Assistance like yours by the Nation's press is of great value to the Treasury. The extensive and continuous sale of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps is an important factor not only in financing National Defense, but also in safeguarding against inflation, and providing a cushion of savings for the readjustment period.

"...I know we can count on your extended patriotic interest in this vital, long-pull endeavor."

EXTENSION OF SELECTIVE SERVICE

In a radio address to the Army on the reasons for extension of selective service, War Secretary Stimson said the Government realized the personal sacrifice of additional service but was also conscious of the danger to the U. S. He said "some of the most significant symptoms...which invariably forecast the coming of the new Axis attack...are occurring in South America...the most dangerous avenue of attack against us."

The War Department announced that unless the international situation becomes more serious it intends to release by December 10 approximately 150,000 National Guardsmen inducted last fall, 20,000 selectees inducted last November and December and 10,000 Reserve officers. The releases will be made upon application in accordance with the following priorities: dependency and hardship, age of more than 28 on July 1, 1941, and marriage for those who have served 12 months. Men completing enlistments will also be released on request.

AID TO BRITAIN, RUSSIA AND CHINA

The President announced aircraft ferry and air transport services to West Africa and the Middle-Eastern war zone to provide direct and speedy delivery to "a critical point in the front against aggression..." The route will be so arranged that it will not pass through the zone of actual warfare, Mr. Roosevelt said.

The President told his press conference Russian needs fall into two categories: (1) materials immediately available to help them in their summer campaign; (2) materials which will be available for the spring campaign next year. Russia will not get lend-lease aid, the President said, because the Soviets have the necessary cash for materials.

The Public Health Service announced a 16-member U. S. medical commission will go to China to direct health measures for 250,000 Chinese building the 1,700 mile railroad along the Burma Road.

PRODUCTION PROGRESS

President Roosevelt told his press conference that on the average defense production is up to estimates and in some cases actually exceeds estimates. He said, however, he still is not satisfied with armament production. He said several hundred tanks manufactured this year have gone to the British; the quota of 61 anti-aircraft guns monthly is being more than met; 160 37-mm. anti-tank guns will be delivered in August, 260 in September and 320 in October; 340 81-mm. mortars will be made in August.

OPM Director Knudsen told a press conference the rate of defense progress is sufficient to provide adequate equipment for the Army within six or seven months. He predicted again the U. S. can out-produce any other nation but said that the nation is still not showing the correct spirit. Production rather than shipping, he said, is the greatest bottleneck in U. S. aid to Britain.

Deer Seasons Here Soon

The deer hunting season opens in this district Tuesday, September 16. Although hunting in the coastal and valley counties, where the season is in full swing, is reported not as good as last year, local experts and visitors to the back country report a banner season and plenty of deer. Last year Lyle Smith and Oscar Schumacher were the first hunters into Truckee with kills and Jimmy Swanson, first at Tahoe City.

War Undersecretary Patterson, speaking at Syracuse, said the Army will not have to resort to broomsticks instead of weapons for training because "America is at last pushing toward peak production...Tooling up will soon be over. Guns, tanks and planes are coming in daily increasing numbers." He cited production increases in the past six months: tanks, 800 per cent; other vehicles, 600 per cent; machine guns, 225 per cent; anti-aircraft guns, 400 per cent; smokeless powder, 400 per cent.

CIVILIAN SUPPLY

OPM and the Office of Price Administration ordered auto production for the 1942 model year cut to 817,000 cars during the four months beginning August 1, compared with 1,560,000 during the four months ended July 31. General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were asked to make a 27.6 per cent cut from last year's levels; Nash, Studebaker, Hudson, Packard, Willys and Crosley, 20.2.

OPM Associate Director Hillman said unemployment in the industry would be headed off by transfer of workers to defense plants and other defense industries and the conversion of auto production machinery to defense work along the same lines as similar moves in the silk industry.

DEFENSE CONTRACTING

The OPM announced changes in Army and Navy purchasing policies to combat unemployment in plants and communities threatened with shortages of materials because of priority action and to utilize more of the nation's productive capacities through subcontracting. The Government can negotiate contracts at prices up to 15 per cent above current quotations, deal with joint groups of small contractors, eliminate bids and performance bonds when necessary, inspect products at the plant to facilitate prompt payment and call for bids to be broken down into optional units to permit smaller firms to bid.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia arranged for the first state-wide "blackout" to be held the night of September 12 in New Mexico. Twelve towns will be "bombed", fires will be started in vacant lots and other emergencies will be rehearsed.

LaGuardia also announced a training program for 100,000 volunteer

STATE FAIR WILL FEATURE AIR CORPS DEMONSTRATION

Sacramento, Aug. 28—California State Fair visitors will get a first hand demonstration of the activities that are necessary to maintain Uncle Sam's air corps in the large display which McClellan Field will present during the ten days of the 87th annual exposition, August 29 through September 7.

The exhibit will be shown in a huge tent, 305 by 102 feet in size, adjoining the splinter-proof industrial bomb shelter which is being constructed by the state association of architects in cooperation with the state defense council.

The display will feature a demonstration of a new, practically unbreakable glass which can be bent and stretched without breaking. A public address system will be used to explain the use of glass for wind shields, gun turrets and other enclosures.

A skilled technician will demonstrate the wrapping of a parachute while a suspended parachute with a dummy will hang above. Other exhibits will display landing gears, engines of various sizes, fuel tanks, gun turrets, engine mounts, oxygen masks, collapsible life boats, life preservers, flying apparel, emergency rations, propellers in a damaged condition and after being repaired and a complete line of aircraft engine parts.

nurses' aides with the collaboration of the Red Cross and local hospitals. The Public Health Service called for 50,000 young women to begin professional nursing training this fall to meet a future shortage. At present, the service said, there are 10,000 vacant positions for registered nurses in the nation's hospitals.

OIL COMPANIES TAKE UP ICKES "SHORTAGE" CLAIMS

Washington, Aug. 28—Oil Administrator Harold Ickes has made demands on the public for slower speed, gradual acceleration, deceleration, elimination of unnecessary use of motor vehicles, elimination of idling motors, checking carburetors and ignition system, jack-rabbit starting, gasoline curfews, etc. The petroleum coordinator is accused of "haranguing the public with threats of oil rationing" by the Washington Post.

Eleven big oil concerns have made a volunteer offer to build a new 1820 mile pipeline system, the longest in the world, with a capacity to deliver 250,000 barrels of fuel oil daily from the oil fields to the eastern seaboard. They will furnish 70 to 80 million dollars for this privately owned National Defense pipeline.

Pipelines would meet any shortage that may threaten the future and, according to the news reports, it will be possible to put them in operation within nine to ten months.

HENRY CLAY PRIZED
CHIP FROM COFFIN OF FIRST PRESIDENT

Montgomery (Ala.) Aug. 28 —(UP)—One of Henry Clay's most prized possessions was a wooden ring that held a piece of George Washington's coffin.

This fact is disclosed in an Alabama newspaper of 1852 that reposes in the collection of the State Department of Archives and History.

How Clay got the chip from the Washington coffin was not revealed in the story, which was printed in the Jacksonville, Ala., Republican on Tuesday, August 3, 1852.

The story quoted a Louisville newspaper's account of Henry Clay's will filed for probate and gave details of the disposition of the Clay estate.

One of the most interesting details of the will is the codicil relating to Clay's Negro slaves. The opposition to slavery of the man who made four unsuccessful bids for the Presidency is amply recorded by historians. It was during his unsuccessful fight to keep Texas out of the union, to curtail slavery, that Clay said, "I'd rather be right than be President."

The codicil orders the executors of the Clay will to free his slaves, as follows: "...that all the children of his slaves born after the first of January, 1850 (Clay died in 1852) be liberated and sent to Liberia—the males at the age of 28 and the females at the age of 25."

The will set aside three years of the earnings of the slaves to outfit them for the trip to the African Republic. Clay also requested they be taught to "read, write and cipher." Those who were his slaves before 1850 he gave to members of his family.

The ring with the chip of Washington's coffin, Clay bequeathed to Henry S. Duncan, a snuff box reputed to have belonged to Peter the Great of Russia, Clay gave to W. N. Mercer. Clay's Kentucky estate was called Ashland.

Ashland, Ala., is the county seat of Clay County, both named for the famous southerner.

Now the first "V For Victory" dress joins up with the wild-fire "V" campaign launched by Prime Minister Churchill. Millions of women all over the uncaptured world will soon be making and wearing this new "V" dress designed by the Simplicity Pattern Company of New York. Patterns for the "V" dress are on their way to 7,500 stores across the United States. More, with sewing instructions in Spanish, are winging their way to department stores in the 21 Latin American republics. Others are bound for England and Australia. Miss Josephine Johnson, 1940 glamour debutante, chose this version of the "V" dress, made up in light grey wool. It has V-shaped shoulder sections outlined in bold red applique, V-shaped pocket flaps embroidered with the opening notes of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony—three long and one short, the equivalent of the gallant letter "V" in Morse code.

LOCATED IN TRUCKEE-SIERRAVILLE AREA ARE DISCUSSED IN MAGAZINE ARTICLE

According to the National Motorist for August, a nearby lake and mountain owe their names to the famous Countess of Landsfeldt, known to history and the pioneers of Nevada County, as Lola Montez, eccentric beauty of the 1850s. The magazine states:

"On the Fourth of July in 1853, Lola and a large party packed back for a picnic on the banks of a picturesque lake, head of one of the main branches of the Truckee River. Lola named it Independence Lake in honor of the day. It lies west of the road from Truckee to Sierraville..."

The article went on to explain: "The Countess, it is said, acted as judge for her band of loyal miners, settling many disputes of boundaries, mining law and other things she couldn't have known much about. In her honor the miners named the highest peak in the nearby ranges 'Mount Lola'. A wild tale claims that these men planned to stage a revolution, to secede from the Union, and to establish Lola as their Empress. No one knows what happened to this plan if it actually did exist."

The mountain is two miles west of Independence Lake, near the Sierra County line, and about 15 miles north by west of Truckee.

The magazine in which the article appeared is the official publication of the National Automobile Club that is issued to members.

SAFETY EMBLEMS

Awards of Safety Emblems and Certificates to four employees of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Truckee were announced this week by W. M. Englehart, Sr., owner. Those listed to receive the awards are W. M. Englehart, Jr., Dallas W. Brown, W. J. Preston and John Saibini.

In making the announcement, Englehart said, "The awards are but tokens of our appreciation of the interest of individual employees in safety of operation. They are made upon the basis of an accident-free record for the past year, and apply both to those employees in the plant and those in our sales-service operations. All credit for our safety record is due them for their efforts in seeing that safety rules inside and outside the plant are carried out to the letter."

The safety campaign in which the bottling company has been participating is sponsored by the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, national association of the soft drink industry, of which the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Truckee is a member. The program is in line with the safety movement spreading across the country to "Stop Accidents—Speed Defense" on the basis that accidents destroy morale, waste man power and damage equipment that is difficult to replace.

FIESTA COMMEMORATES RECONQUEST

(Santa Fe Railway Photos)

SANTA FE, N. M.—The Santa Fe Fiesta, the oldest community celebration in the United States, observed this year August 30 to September 1, commemorates the reconquest of ancient Santa Fe, the historic capital of New Mexico, by General Don Diego de Vargas Zapata Lujan, in 1692, following the bloody Pueblo Indian rebellion of 1680 and twelve years of Indian occupation. The above scenes typical of last year's celebration are: Conquistadores enter the city; de Vargas kneels in the Plaza in front of the Governor's palace giving thanks for the reconquest of New Mexico; Children's colorful costume and pet show winds thru the Plaza; strolling minstrels participate in the Fiesta season. In circle: Zozobra (Dull Care) is burned in effigy as a climax of fireworks display as night falls on the first day. The Fiesta ends the third day with the gay and beautiful El Baile de los Conquistadores (Ball of the Conquerors.)

COCKTAIL LOUNGE

Under New Management

While volunteers held a canvas over the operators' heads

FIRE broke out in the building in which the telephone office of a Northern California town was located. But the operators refused to leave their posts. Water from fire hoses broke through the ceiling. Volunteers held a canvas over the operators' heads. Meanwhile a service representative, forced to leave, moved her desk to a gasoline station across the street. Service went on. It's a Bell System tradition.
